TEUTONIC FORCES SWEEPING OVER ROUMANIA

Von Mackensen's Army is Enclosing Country in a Grip of Steel and is Only Six Miles from Cernavoda

(Special to The Herald)
Berlin, Oct. 24.—With sledgehammer blows the German forces are sweeping into the interior of Roumania and the steam roller forces which conquered the kingdoms of Belgium, Serbia and Montenegro, is smashing its way towards Bucharest. Like a gigantic vice north of the captured port of Constantza and have occupied the towns of Medjidie and Raslova. They are now but six miles from Cernavoda, the great strategic point at the end of the twelve-mile bridge which spans the Danube.
On the northern boundary of Roumania von Falkenhayn's Austro-German army has captured the Predel pass and the troops are pouring through Rotherthurn pass where the resistance of the Roumanian forces is being overcome. The German allies have captured 7,363 prisoners in this last burst of fighting on the northern and eastern boundaries of Roumania. Six hundred were taken at Predel Pass and the others by von Mackensen in the Dobruja region.
Predel and Rotherthurn Passes are the chief gateways into Roumania from Hungary. Both are in the hands of the German and Austrian armies and the Russo-Roumanian forces are in demoralized flight before the swift advance of German, Bulgarian and Turkish cavalry. It is believed that Cernavoda will be captured within a few hours.
The Russians have sent forward large bodies of troops as reinforcements but these could not check the advance of the Teutons. Von Mackensen has captured 75 officers, 6693 men, one flag, 52 machine guns, 12 heavy cannon, and one mine thrower in the last day's fighting. The loss in life to the Russo-Roumanian forces was very heavy.

KITTERY MAN IS SOME WALKER

Makes Good Time on His Hike to Salem, Mass.

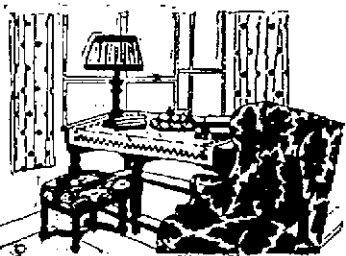

Ira Keene, of Kittery, a boat builder at the navy yard, is not only an excellent mechanic, but some walker. Hardly a Sunday passes but he is off bright and early for a long hike, and a trip to Kennebunk, Dover, York Beach, Biddeford, Hampton Beach and South Berwick are some of the side trips he has made the past month. On Sunday last, he added Salem, Mass., to his walking itinerary and covered the distance of 43 miles in good time, stopping just five minutes for rest on the way. He left home at 4.30 in the morning and planned to reach the Witch City at 4.30 in the afternoon. He was just ten minutes late, arriving at 4.40. From there he took the evening train home, and arriving late for the Kittery ferry, he added a few more miles by walking around to his home at Locke's Cove. He enjoys the long tramps and has never shown the least effects from the pleasure in which he indulges. He has averaged four miles per hour on every walk he has taken, and has not fallen behind that record so far. His next walk will be over the road to Boston.

The Herald prints the news when it is news and not 48 hours to a week old.

CARPENTER DIVORCE CASE IS REOPENED

Counsel for Mrs. Carpenter
Declare Alleged Unfaith-Based Upon Foundation of Falsehood.

Concord, Oct. 24.—Few spectators took their places yesterday in the superior court when Judge John Kivel of Dover reopened the Carpenter divorce case, in which, last July, he granted to Ralph G. Carpenter of Woffboro a divorce from his wife, formerly Marguerite Paul of Boston.

Asserting that the basis for this decision was an alleged infidelity existing between the defendant and J. Gould Day of New York, at Magnolia, Mass., counsel for Mrs. Carpenter yesterday assailed evidence bearing on this "infidelity" presented at a former hearing.

According to affidavits presented from George E. Carter of Brookline, Mass., owner of the Oceanview Hotel from others, it was impossible for Warren, manager of the hotel, and property at Magnolia; from Walter S. Tain witnesses to have seen what they said had transpired between Mrs. Carpenter and Mr. Gould on the porch of the Gables cottage.

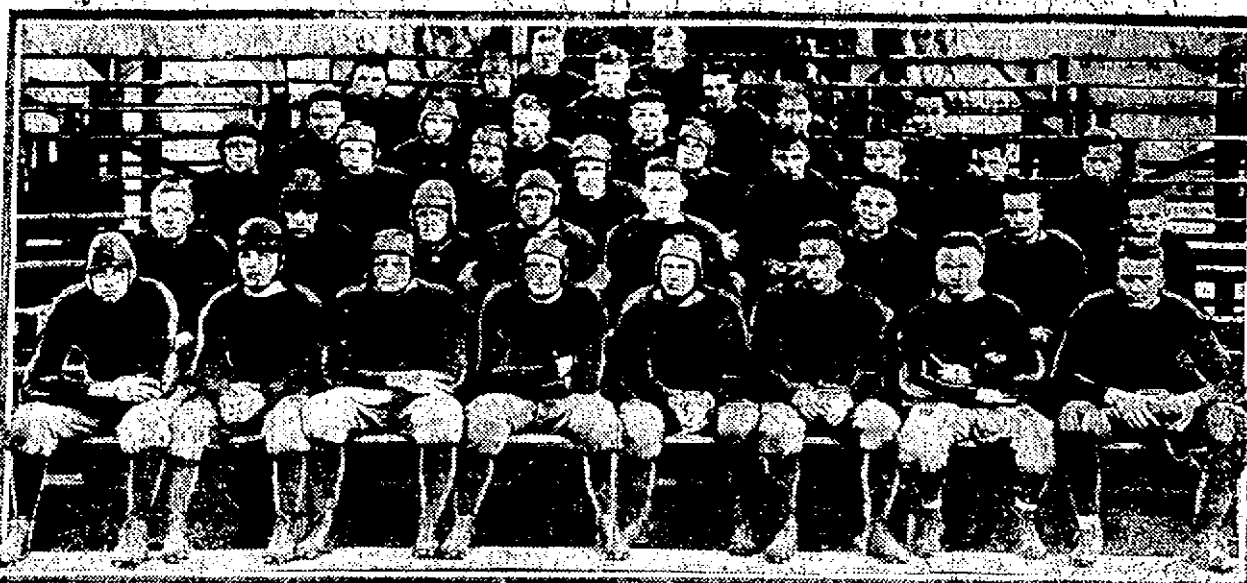

Gen. Frank S. Streeter and Edward K. Woodworth of this city, who, with Walter I. Under, of Boston, are counsel for Mrs. Carpenter, apologized to the court for their failure at the divorce trial last May to make the location of the Oceanview buildings, perfectly clear.

"Four honor, on Sept. 23, 1916, in company with counsel for both parties," said Gen. Streeter, "I made a personal investigation of the truth of statements in the affidavits of Mr. Carter and Mr. Warren and know the facts are accurately stated."

"The court was asked to purge the record of certain testimony, relating to embraces and other acts at the Gables cottage, which was given by Arthur J. Holt, Paul Black, William I. Tain, John J. Green, Superior Court Messenger Charles F. Dolan of Boston and Maj. Carpenter."

"The conduct of Black, Holt and Carpenter is coming in here with evidence that it was a physical impossibility for them to have seen and thus robbing a woman of her good name and son, is simply monstrous," said

THESE FUTURE ADMIRALS OF ANNAPOLIS ARE NOT THINKING OF SUBMARINES.

From this training squad of cadets at Annapolis the football team which will oppose the army in what will be one of the greatest football events of the year will be chosen.

Atty. Woodworth at the close of his argument.

"State prison is too mild punishment for such men," he continued. "Striking their evidence out of the record leaves the other side without a shred of testimony, as Mrs. Carpenter's prior character was that of an absolutely faithful wife. Whatever may be said of her actions, such as drinking cocktails, it remains that such acts were incidental to the sphere of life which her husband had chosen for her."

Mrs. Carpenter's attorneys failed in their attempt, at the opening of the proceedings, to get separate findings on each of the questions under consideration, namely the ability of witnesses to observe what they testified transpired at the Gables cottage; whether, if the evidence was stricken out, sufficient evidence remained to support a finding; the question of Maj. Carpenter's connivance in his wife's alleged indiscretion, and the question of his condonation.

Senator Nathaniel E. Martin was in court with former Dist. Atty. Michael J. Sughrue of Boston to represent Maj. Carpenter, and he opposed what he called a desire for a piecemeal finding. Judge Kivel said he would treat the proceeding as one for a re-hearing of the case.

Contending that testimony of the witnesses and agents of George A. Carpenter and Ralph G. Carpenter was "bought and paid for," Gen. Streeter declared that the libellant had made a criminal assault on the administration of justice and that the New Hampshire courts would not permit a judicial finding to stand which was based on "perjured testimony."

On the question of connivance, Gen. Streeter asked the court to find it in adherence to its finding against Mrs. Carpenter that Maj. Carpenter connived thereat and to rule that such connivance bars him from obtaining a divorce.

If this is denied, he asked the court to find that from a time when he had cause to suspect his wife of unfaithfulness, Carpenter had entertained the intention to get rid of her, employing detectives to watch her even before she went to Magnolia.

At Magnolia, counsel said, Carpenter himself took part in the espionage; that he was willing she should commit the offense and that he had no intention of protecting her, "but acquiesced without any attempt at interference or any word of caution or remonstrance."

Relative to condonation, Gen. Streeter asked the court to reconsider his finding that Mrs. Carpenter condoned the extreme cruelty of which Judge Kivel found Carpenter guilty and to find that she did not condone that cruelty.

Gen. Streeter asked the court that, if this is denied, to find that "intermittently after Maj. Carpenter's last act of physical violence and continuously during the latter part of their marital cohabitation, he treated Mrs. Carpenter with conjugal unkindness, among other things refusing her a single affectionate act, look or word, after some time prior to the summer of 1914, then refusing to be seen in public with her, and finally refusing to live with her and surrounding her with spies, to further his purpose of getting rid of her."

Gen. Streeter took three hours for his argument, an affidavit Senator Martin will ask the court not to grant the new motions.

During yesterday's proceedings, Mrs. Carpenter sat at a table opposite that of her husband and each was careful to avoid the glances of the other.

BOXING NOTES

It looks as though there was going to be a big bunch of "pures" battling for watches and medals at the Amateur Boxing Tournament to be held under the auspices of the Armory A. A. at the Arena, on Wednesday evening. The open classes—116 pounds, 125 pounds and 135 pounds—have filled way beyond the expectations of the A. A. B. officials and with two special classes there ought to be a whole lot of scrapping that will be worth while.

In the special 125 pound class Willie Corbett of Somerville, the New England champion at that weight will be sent against Harry Ginsberg of East Boston. Ginsberg won a decision over Corbett last spring at the Melford A. A. Corbett is boxing good, having won the 125 pound class at Brockton recently, giving away 10 pounds and winning all three bouts.

The other special bout will be in the 135 pound class and will be between Billy Guinn of South Boston and Charlie De Angelis. Guinn made a cleanup of his class at Brockton while De Angelis won at the Riverside bout.

Entries for the open events will close on Monday with Eddie Walsh, 1160 Washington street, Boston.

GERMANY FEELING PINCH OF ALLIED BLOCKADE

Paris, Oct. 23.—That Germany is feeling the pinch of poverty caused by the successful blockade of her ports is apparent, although not yet admitted, by the order of the German government to repatriate 10,000 Italian civilians who are unfit for military service and who have been interned in Germany since the beginning of the war between Italy and Austria. The news of the action on the part of Germany was made public in Rome where news dispatches were received today.

The dispatches to Rome stated that German authorities lacked the means of feeding these prisoners and that they will be sent home by way of Chiasso. The report is received here to mean but one thing, the failure of the German submarine to break the blockade maintained by the Allies and which has been claimed by the Germans as having no effect on their food supply. No official confirmation has been received from the German war office in support of the report.

GIVING AWAY OUR MARKETS

A current from the enormous wheat reservoir of Argentina has been directed to the United States. A news dispatch from Buenos Aires states that the steamer Pampa sailed for New York on September 26th with a 4,000-ton cargo of wheat and linseed consigned to this country, and two other steamers loaded with wheat are to follow. Commenting on this fact the Argentine papers remark that this is the first time Argentina wheat has been exported to the United States.

At present the chief competitor in our domestic wheat market is Canada, but it is expected that Argentina will very soon take front rank among our competitors in this product, if the Democratic tariff law is continued in force. Argentina has been, since the passage of that law our chief competitor in our home market for meat and linseed, and second in wool.

Wheat imports increased from 177,000 bushels during the period October 1912, to July 1913, under the Republican tariff law, to 2,016,000 bushels for the same period, 1913-14, under the Democratic law, while for the same period, 1915-16, despite the enormous demand of the belligerents for Western Hemisphere wheat, our imports rose to very nearly 5,000,000 bushels. Most of this has come from Canada, but the low labor cost of garnering the wheat crop in Argentina makes it possible for that country to freight the grain to this country, and sell it in competition with our farmers, as she does her corn. The Democrats put corn on the free list, and during the ten months period 1913-14, while the law was in free operation, our imports of corn reached nearly 14,000,000 bushels, compared with about 237,000 bushels under the Republican rates of duty for a similar ten months period 1912-13.

The report of the Department of Commerce of imports for the 8 months ended August, 1916, shows an increase in our imports from Argentina, compared with 1915, of $21,000,000 or from $61,250,000 in 1915 to $82,250,000 in 1916, and the Democratic law gives practically a free market to all Argentina.

genuine products. During the first 8 months of 1912, under the Republican law, our imports from Argentina totaled $14,565,000, and for the 1913 law in operation, they jumped to $10,000,000.

The Department of Commerce has been making a great talk about extending our commerce in South America by means of trade concessions. What concession in our market can we give Argentina that she does not already possess, in exchange for a concession in her market? We have given her free trade in the biggest market in the world. What more is there to give?

SERBIA OFFERS TO SEND MINISTER TO U. S.

London, Oct. 24.—Negotiations are in progress between the United States and Serbia for the appointment of a Serbian minister to Washington. Serbia has never had a legation in Washington, being represented only by a Consul-General in New York while the American minister who represents the U. S. in Bulgaria and Roumania is also credited to Serbia. It is now reported that the Serbian government which now has its headquarters in Paris, has suggested that it should send a minister to the United States, has submitted a name for approval, and has been informed that the state department will accept the designation.

IMPORTANT REAL ESTATE TRANSFER MADE MONDAY

National Block and Portsmouth Motor Mart Purchased by Albert Hislop from Granite State Fire Insurance Company

One of the biggest real estate transactions for the year, was completed yesterday when the National Block on Congress and Fleet streets and the Garage occupied by the Portsmouth Motor Mart, on Fleet and Porter streets, were purchased by Albert Hislop from the Granite State Fire Insurance Company. The new owner will take possession of the property on November first.

This last purchase by Mr. Hislop puts him in control of one of the most important business properties in the city, taking in the entire block bounded by Church, Congress, Fleet and Porter streets, which includes the Colonial theatre building.

The National Block is said to be one of the finest constructed buildings in the city and was erected in 1879 by the late Frank Jones. The faced bricks used in its construction were brought here from Philadelphia. The oldest tenants of the building are the several Odd Fellows' lodges which went into the building, occupying the two upper of the four floors, on its completion. They dedicated the hall, the upper one of which is used as their banquet hall, a few days after the builders had completed their work.

The Granite State Fire Insurance company are also among the older tenants of the building and have been located in the block since the company was established. At first they occupied quarters on the second floor while several stores were located on the ground floor. Later this company took one half of the lower floor and on purchasing the block from the Frank Jones Estate took entire possession of the first floor, the second being occupied as offices.

It was impossible to learn last evening the intention of the Granite State company but it is reported that this company has planned the erection of a new building as their home, similar to the newly erected home of the Manchester Fire Insurance Company at Manchester. The garage on Fleet street adjoining the National Block was erected a short time ago by the Granite State company.

HOLLAND READY TO FIGHT TO ENFORCE NEUTRALITY

The Hague, Oct. 23.—The Dutch government is ready to go to war any moment to protect Holland's neutrality. Dutch officials admit it.

Holland is not tempting fate, though her diplomats and influential newspapers are doing their best to keep her from any combination of circumstances that might force her to side with one belligerent or the other in the war.

Dutch officials candidly admit they will fight England for any unneutral act against or upon Dutch soil; and that the same thing goes for Germany. Holland will fight her for the same reasons and just as quickly.

Holland is devoting as much time, material and energy to the upbuilding of her army as she is to the development of her navy.

Today it is the Queen who is the "woman of the hour" and the real leader of the government of Holland.

Every morning at 8.30 she is at her desk and she works all day. She attends every ministerial council and she is said to have written the eleven parts of many of Holland's protest notes to both Great Britain and Germany.

Holland, as is well known, is building a great many submarines. A few days ago a new one was launched and the Queen went out in it for half an hour, traveling part of the time under water. The Queen observes strict neutrality in her own household. Her husband, Prince Henry, was a German prince from Mecklenburg, so there is naturally some feeling among pro-ally Dutch about this. His loyalty to Holland is not questioned, but in order not to have him suspected in any way he is told none of the secrets of the state. He is made chief of the Red Cross so he can have something to do, but in this work he is subject to the orders of Gen. Schneider, chief of the general staff.

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR CROSS, SICK FEVERISH CHILD

If little stomach is sour, liver torpid or bowels clogged.

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. ## ATTENTION! SONS OF VETERANS OF THE CIVIL WAR.

Headquarters Storer Post, No. 1, Department of New Hampshire, G. A. R. In pursuance of numerous requests of the sons of veterans residing in this city, in an effort to organize a "camp" of Sons of Veterans, which shall be an auxiliary to Storer Post, at the regular meeting of the Post held on Oct. 18, it was unanimously voted that this appeal be needed. It was therefore decided that the commander issue a call to all eligible persons to this auxiliary and patriotic undertaking to meet at these headquarters on Thursday evening, Oct. 26, at 7.30 o'clock.

In this patriotic movement, Storer Post is actuated by its intense desire that a Camp which shall be instituted and enjoy the honor and be worthy of the proud prestige of Storer Post, in the Department of New Hampshire; it is therefore most essential the Post shall have such an auxiliary. Storer Post, No. 1, has the proud distinction of being the pioneer of the Department, taking its provincial Charter from the Department of Massachusetts. It is, therefore, desired that this effort may be successful. With an abundance of material—said to be 180 strong—in this city, which includes many of the young business men, there should be no lack of interest among so many eligible to membership. With a Camp officered by men of ability who shall command the confidence and respect of the Post and our citizens, there can be no doubt of the prominence which will be accorded to the proposed Camp. It is earnestly requested that this call be generously responded to, so that Storer Post may have an auxiliary second to none in the Department.

The Grand Army of the Republic throughout the country, as well as the public, fully recognize the valuable aid rendered and as being a factor in the assistance to the comrades in their efforts in relieving the wants of their wards, the widows and orphans of deceased comrades.

Rally to this bugle call for Thursday evening, 26th inst. There should be a good attendance of the comrades of the Post.

NEEDLE IN WASHING CAUSES $7,500 SUIT.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 23.—A needle in clothing which she washed caused Mrs. Lela Belton, a washerwoman, to file suit in the circuit court in Independence for $7,500 and costs for loss of the use of her left hand. The suit is against E. C. Stoker and Mrs. Arvilla Stoker his wife. The petition stated that on August 28, in washing garments for the Stoker family, the needle entered Mrs. Belton's left hand and caused blood poison.

ADAMSON BILL'S VALUE IN DOUBT BY OFFICIALS

Grand Chief Engineer of Locomotive Engineers Issued Circular to Brotherhood Stating "He Does Not Know What the Law Means"

GRAND OFFICE

Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

CLEVELAND, OHIO, October 10, 1916.

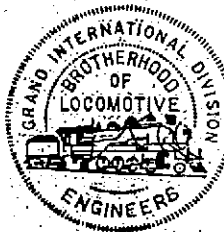

To the Officers and Members of all Divisions and to the Chairman and Secretary-Treasurers of all General Committees of Adjustment:

Dear Sirs and Brothers: We submit the following statement of the work done during the month of September, 1916, which we trust will meet with your approval.

We are receiving a number of letters requesting definite information regarding the application of the Adamson 8-hour law, but we are not in position to give any definite information on this subject, for we do not know yet just what the law means. We are, however, from time to time furnishing the General Chairman with such information as is obtainable in the matter.

Yours fraternally,

W. S. STONE,
Grand Chief Engineer.

ATTEST: WM. E. PRENTER, P. G. E.

Facsimile of Mr. Stone's admission of doubt.

New York, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Warren S. Stone, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and one of the four men chiefly responsible for driving the Adamson law through Congress under threat of a nation wide tie-up of the railroads, has made formal admission, over the grand seal of the brotherhood, to all its officers and members that he is "not in position to give any definite information" about the Adamson law "because we do not know yet just what the law means." He made this admission in a circular reproduced herewith addressed to "the officers and members of all divisions, and to the chairmen and secretary-treasurers of all general committees of adjustment." The circular was dated at Cleveland, Ohio, October 10, 1916. It was signed by Mr. Stone as grand chief engineer, and by assistant grand chiefs Cadle, Willis, Burgess, Kennedy, Corrigan, Griffing and Montgomery.

"We are receiving a number of letters requesting definite information regarding the application of the Adamson 8-hour law," says the circular. "but we are not in position to give any definite information on this subject, because we do not know yet just what the law means. We are, however, from time to time furnishing the general chairmen with such information as is obtainable in the matter."

The day before Mr. Stone's and his colleagues signed this circular, Charles E. Hughes discussed the Adamson law in a speech at Newark, New Jersey. "Hasty legislation is likely to carry with it unwelcome surprises," he said. "If eight hours is to be a measure or standard of a day's work for the purpose of reckoning the compensation to be paid, how are those men left who complete the prescribed number of miles in less than eight hours? Have they any assurance, if they are to be paid under this bill on a basis of hours, that they will be paid on a basis of miles when they work less than eight hours? And how will a rigid eight hour basis of pay affect present guarantees? There is much food for thought in this legislation, not only on the part of those for whom it does not provide but also on the part of those to whom it expressly refers," and inasmuch as it was his surrender to the threat of a strike by the brotherhoods that drove the bill through congress, he certainly ought to know all about it and especially what it means. He is President Wilson. Time and again since he signed the bill with four gold pens, and gave one to each brotherhood chief as a sacred souvenir, he has proclaimed in public his satisfaction with this "eight hour law" as he always describes it, as an accomplishment of service to labor and to humanity.

"Since Mr. Stone and his colleagues are in such doubt as to the meaning and application of this law, why don't they apply to Mr. Wilson for real information? Is there anything in their experience with him which has caused them to begin to doubt his omniscience? Perhaps there is," is suggested by David S. Barry, director of publicity to the Republican National Committee.

are wondering how it is that railroad men such as Lovett, of the Union Pacific, and Underwood of the Erie, are so enthusiastic in their support of President Wilson for re-election. "Is it because they are so displeased with the Adamson Act?" asks Henry J. Allen, the well-known Kansan. "Is labor to be the goat? Was this bill a gun loaded by labor for labor? This wage increase did not come out of Wilson's pocket, or out of the pocket of the administration. No eight hour day with ten hour pay for the railway postal clerks or other postal employees. No. That raise would show in the Wilson administration's appropriation bill. Labor again the football of politics. How often have its sage counselors warned it away from entangling alliances. One proud boast of labor, that its vote could neither be bought nor delivered. Has it endured until now only to be sold to the party soliciting this vote with a rainbow just before election?"

BRIBES TO BOYS SAVE PAVEMENTS FROM FIRES.

Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., Oct. 23.—William Alworth, Commissioner of Public Works, has found a way to save the fine pavements of this town from the usual fall combination of small boys, match, and dry leaves. Every bad boy in Dobbs Ferry was promised 10 cents if he would refrain from the pleasure of kindling bonfires on the streets. So far an even dozen of confessed bad boys has been found. The Commissioner is paying the fire prevention insurance out of his own pocket, but suggests the town establish a fund for the purpose.

The Weather Bureau.

One branch of the government service which is little thought of because the people have become so familiar with it, but which is nevertheless highly important, is the forecasting of the weather. This was begun years ago and the undertaking was regarded with a good deal of skepticism at the time. Few believed it would be possible to get the drift of storms and changes in temperature and warn the people of their approach in time to make the service of any practical value, but that this idea was erroneous was demonstrated long ago. The weather bureau renders a service of large value to the people of the whole country, and particularly to the shipping interests, to which it means more than people on the land can realize.

There are natural conditions which prevent this service from being perfect. The elements are capable of very sudden shifts and turns and it is beyond the power of man to accurately foretell their movements in every instance, yet there are general rules which are very reliable, and the result is that important, and even slight, changes in the weather are foretold with an accuracy which makes the service very dependable as a rule.

The recent serious storm in the Gulf region was accurately forecasted by the weather bureau, and the timely warning prevented large losses which would certainly have been suffered in the absence of knowledge of the storm's approach. The warning was sent out by telephone, telegraph, automobiles and motor boats, and all classes in the line of the storm were reached in time to enable them to take the necessary precautions. The real value of such a warning cannot be realized in regions that are not visited by such destructive storms.

And there is large value in the service in inland regions also. It is of value to the farmers through its warnings of the approach of storms and frosts, and even pleasure seekers are in the habit of consulting the weather reports when planning outings in the open. The service is so reliable that people have come to have a high respect for the forecasts, and almost the first thing that every man and woman does when opening the morning or evening newspaper is to see "what the weather is going to be." And in the majority of cases it proves to be just what the weather man predicted.

The service of the weather bureau is worth more than it costs and, in view of its practical value, it is not to be wondered at that it is respected and appreciated.

A man who has been figuring on the cost of living reaches the conclusion that a man, wife and three children under fourteen years old cannot live comfortably in a big city on less than $22.75 a week. It may be that such a family cannot live as they would like to on less than that, but the cities are full of families that are living on far less, and the chances are that they will have to continue to.

Now it is being discovered that cool weather is not the preventive of infantile paralysis that it was supposed to be. Renewed activity of the disease has been reported from various places of late, and in some cities schools that had been opened have been closed again. It is apparent that the medical profession and the public still have much to learn regarding this miserable malady.

A North Dakota missionary says the American Indians will disappear within fifty years. They are not to be swept away by disease or war, but are to be absorbed by the white race through intermarriage. And there will be no hyphenates among the fruits of this union. All will be Americans, whatever else they may be.

Bayonne appears to be clearly entitled to the distinction of having given its name to the bayonet. The city has been very warlike of late, the authorities and the strikers "shooting to kill." Such industrial conflicts are a sad commentary on our boasted intelligence and civilization.

Two more long-term prisoners have escaped from Sing Sing, being whisked away by an automobile that was in waiting for them. Notwithstanding all the "reform" that has taken place in that institution in recent years, there appears to be room for more.

Brown university has raised the pay of its professors and the price of tuition goes up at the same time. This looks like passing the extra cost of instruction along to the "ultimate consumer."

Porto Rico is also getting the strike habit, but it is much to be doubted that the island will be benefited by the introduction of this feature of "civilization."

EDITORIAL COMMENT

From Bad to Worse

(From the Buffalo Express, Ind't Rep)
Administration spokesmen denounce as a campaign slander a report that the Lusitania case had been settled. Do they think it a credit to the Administration that the Lusitania case has remained unsettled—neither disavowed nor avenged?

The Lady From Montana

(From the Syracuse Post-Standard)
Miss Jeanette Rankin, Republican nominee for Congress from Montana, who is likely to be elected, will be as shy violet when she finds herself in company with 334 men.

She is a pretty woman.
She is red-headed, with a temper to match.
She is a stunning dresser.
She is an effective speaker, and ready in debate.

She is well informed upon national problems.

We should expect Montana, given the opportunity to supply the National Legislature with its first congresswoman, would take the bet, simply as a sporting proposition. When the opportunity is presented in the person of so competent a candidate, it becomes something more than an invitation to gallantry. Miss Rankin, M. C., will add color and impress some restraint upon the House of Representatives, and she won't hurt it a bit.

Ohio's Stay-At-Home Vote

(From the Cincinnati Enquirer, Dem.)
The political struggle in Ohio during the next three weeks will command the attention of the people of the Union.

The registration, so far as it has gone this year, indicates a much larger vote in Ohio than in any year in its history, and there exists no doubt that if but 55 per cent of the total vote of the State goes into the ballot boxes more than 1,200,000 ballots will be there to count. There must have been a stay-at-home vote in 1912 of fully 125,000. Why did it stay at home? What was the party affiliation in former years of the majority of that stay-at-home vote? If it was Democratic, why did the voters not come to the polls for Governor Wilson and support him as they did Mr. Bryan in 1907? If it was Republican, why did it not come to the aid of Judge Taft?

If it was Progressive, why did it not boost Colonel Roosevelt in his hour of need?

That silent stay-at-home vote of Ohio in 1912 is the vote that will have a mighty influence upon the results in 1916.

It numbered not less than 125,000.

Will it be for Wilson? Will it be for Hughes? Or will the Socialist candidate make another such sensational gain in votes in this state as Debs did in 1912?

Love the Lover

(From the Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.)
Sandwiched between the reports of sanguinary encounters on the European battle fronts came the news of a victory that will be applauded all over the world, for it was a triumph of love. Strangely enough, considering the traditions that pertain to rank in the European nations, the heroine of this affair of the heart is a member of the royalty. Princess Marie Therese of Hohenzollern, while the hero is Otto Kohlschoten, an apothecary and a descendant of an humble Austrian family.

Judging from the meagre details was a case of the pity that is "akin to love" developing into actual love. Otto was a soldier in the Austrian army, and while thus serving his country he was stricken with an illness, that sent him to a hospital. It was his good fortune to be placed where Princess Marie Therese was acting as a nurse, and it was while ministering unto him that the romance had its origin, resulting in the marriage of heroine and hero.

Thus again it is demonstrated that love is the greatest of levelers, rank and wealth counting as nothing where the heart is concerned. But it is possible that the princess did not make a great financial sacrifice, for

CURRENT OPINION

Stability of Our Social and Economic Life Rests
Largely on Frugality.

The stability of our economic and social life rests in the main on the spirit of independence in the individual member through the practice of thrift. Effectively to change public thought from extravagance to frugality is possible in two ways. Adversity is an unfeeling medium, but all too summary to accept if avoidable.

Education resulting from a nation wide thrift campaign could be quite as efficacious, but it must have for its sole aim something more than the mere harvesting into banks of dimes and dollars, however much this result is to be desired. Rather should it seek to acquaint the people with the real possibilities of purchasing power of money; to spend it wisely by getting the most of it; to make it earn more for them, but everlastingly avoid the lure of the swindler; preaching the principle of sound investment or what to do with their precious funds after saving.

Summarized, it is to have our people gain a mastery of their wills and give direction to their purposes; to cultivate a closer intimacy between the public and banker; supply our youth through our educational systems with improved means of approaching their life work; to instill new deals of thrift in the home, a money sense in the future burden bearers of business; to forestall the dire circumstance of old age from lives unguardedly spent; to have all thrift in time, energy, material, and not the least of these develop a broader vision in the banker of his duty to the public and need of his generous spirit and action in gratuitous public service.

In a word, to help people find themselves, to make thrift a popular individual habit and a national trait in America—by Victor A. Lersner, Comptroller Williamsburg Savings Bank, Brooklyn, N. Y.

let it be remembered that her Otto is a druggist, and if he can obtain a good location for a drug store "when the cruel war is over" he will be able to maintain Marie Therese in a manner befitting her title of princess.

WHERE IS THE THREE-MILE LIMIT?

"Where is the 'three-mile limit' on the coast of Massachusetts?" is one of the puzzling questions which have been brought up because of the recent submarine raids along the shore, and after interviewing many state and federal authorities on this question, it appears that the question is unsatisfactorily answered, at any rate, no conclusive answer has been secured.

This question came to the minds of many people who have been wondering whether or not the coastwise boats which ply from Boston to the Maine coast cities, and which can be seen from Massachusetts coast towns, were inside or outside of this limit. From the rulings received, it appears that under some these boats are inside the limit, practically the entire trip, while under other rulings it appears that they are outside practically the entire trip.

There are two distinct ideas on the subject. One is that the three-mile limit is figured three miles from the projecting points on the entire coast; that is, three miles out from Cape Ann, Eastern Point, Nahant, and the coast line in the city of Boston, and in this case the line would practically follow the same coast line. The other opinion is that it is figured three miles out from a line drawn from Cape Ann to Cape Cod.

Under the first opinion the three-mile limit would be located less than three miles off Egg Rock, and in this case the Boston-Portland boat would continue nearly her entire trip outside the three-mile limit. It is also true that under a ruling of this kind there are high seas between the mainland of Massachusetts and the island of Nantucket.

The most prevalent opinion and the one which has been secured from officials in the department of the U. S. district attorney, is that the three-mile limit is figured three miles out from a line drawn from Cape Ann to Cape Cod. Under a ruling of this kind the limit would be between 25 and 30 miles out from the coast line in some places and in this case the Boston-Portland boats would be inside the limit during practically the entire trip. Also under this ruling there would not be high seas between the mainland and the island of Nantucket.

This last named opinion seems to be the most plausible in view of an international ruling made a short time ago relative to fishing along the Canadian coast. There is a large bay along that coast in which the U. S. fishermen once had the privilege of fishing, the claim being made that the three-mile limit followed the coast line, and therefore, a fisherman who remained three miles from the coast would be in the high seas. The British government however, secured a different ruling, and the three-mile limit was declared as three miles out from a line drawn from the furthest headlands. This excluded the United States fishermen from this bay, and in the light of this opinion it would seem that the three-mile limit along the Massachusetts coast is three miles out from a line drawn from Cape Ann to Cape Cod.

Nevertheless no one appears willing to give a candid answer, and all finally answer by saying that "Others rule differently, but that is my opinion."

PEOPLES' OPINIONS.

They All Did Well

Editor:
I read in the local papers, articles of praise for the work performed by Officer Anderson in handling traffic at the corner of Vaughan street and will say that he is entitled to bouquets for the duty he performed there. His work was excellent, but what about Officers Kelley and Philbrick who were the relief men at this point by day, and Officer McLean at night. Each and every one of these officers are in line for commendation for the efficient manner in which they did their part as traffic officers.

CONGRESS STREET.

Can They Come Back?

Editor:
In a recent issue of your paper an article was printed about the good service which the Eureka hand tub has performed. The writer has no doubt, nor does he question what has been done by this worn out tub, but we are living in the present and for the future. Can the Eureka do it again? A good past record doesn't keep an old soldier from the poor house—he must make good at the present time.

A good record of saving the Old South Church at Boston (which is questioned by many) doesn't get the heater repaired at the Central Station.

Columbus had a grand record for discovery. Did that enable him to keep out of chains?

These Eureka Chaps can make good telling what they have done, sinking corn-cob pipes or playing old natts, but can they come back as fire-fighters and do with the Eureka what others have done?

Woodrow Wilson is claimed by a few to have a good record, but is he to be re-elected on his record, or is he out working for new converts?

Borekin, wake up; install a new relief valve; be progressive and the rank and file will sing praises for you whenever you deserve them.

WILSON, GOMPERS &amp; CO.

Mr. Samuel Gompers and some other labor leaders are now engaged in trying to "deliver" the labor vote at the nation to Woodrow Wilson and the Democratic party—deliver the vote to a party that, like its candidate has been the historic enemy of labor. To say nothing of the Democratic party as an organized political association defending human slavery for a hundred years; we all know that in the Democratic states labor laws are few and far between; and we all know that Woodrow Wilson has never been the real, sincere friend of labor.

In Maine Mr. Gompers assailed Mr. Hughes because the Republican candidate didn't appeal for votes for a 51-hour law, but never said a word about the fact that a fifty-four hour bill was passed while Charles E. Hughes was governor of New York and became a law. Nor did he mention the fact that six times as many labor laws were passed in that state while Mr. Hughes was governor as were passed in New Jersey under the rule of Woodrow Wilson.

The labor leaders are not saying a word in criticism of the fact that Woodrow Wilson killed the Burnett Immigration bill twice, once by a veto and a second time with the threat of again vetoing the bill if the senate dared to pass it. Gompers denounced President Taft by vetoing the same bill, yet he refuses to criticize Wilson for doing the same thing twice. Yet Mr. Gompers is on record as declaring that any man who defeated the Immigration bill, was an enemy of labor. In Maine, Mr. Gompers actually defended the Wilson administration in its disgraceful dealings with the German government in the sinking of the Lusitania and the murder of more than a hundred American men, women and children, saying that this was a "diplomatic victory," and that we secured some cold cash for the lives of American citizens murdered.

Gompers and his labor leaders are trying to deceive the American people and organized labor, too, by telling us that Mr. Wilson didn't surrender to any threats, but that he wanted to see the railroad boys secure an eight-hour day. The labor leaders know that the demand was not for an eight-hour day, but a six-eight-hour day, meaning that eight hours should be reckoned as a full time pay-day and that for all time worked over eight hours extra pay should be paid. In other words, it was not an eight-hour day at all, but an increase in wages; yet Gompers, Wilson & Company, are trying to bamboozle the American people. Secondly: These labor men know that the life-long record of Woodrow Wilson has been one of opposition to organized labor, clear up to the time Mr. Wilson became a candidate for office. In his speech at the Waldorf hotel in New York on March 18, 1907, Mr. Wilson declared that organized labor was an "enemy to liberty." In that, he said, organized labor stood for inequality of opportunity; and on June 9, 1909, in his address to the graduating class, he said: "You know what the usual standard of the employee is in our day. It is to give as little as he may for his wages."

And Woodrow Wilson has never repudiated these remarks. Contrast what he said with the fact that Charles E. Hughes has never said one word against organized labor, and also with the fact that while Mr. Hughes was governor he signed 56 labor measures.

The real enemy of organized labor, if any candidate is that at all, is Woodrow Wilson, and the real friend of organized labor is Charles E. Hughes. Deeds speak louder than words.

Think it over Mr. Worker, before you mark your ballot next month.—Haverhill Record.

HEALTH MORE THAN MEDICAL PROBLEM

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 24.—The protection of public health is more than a mere medical problem, Dr. W. C. Rucker, Assistant Surgeon General United States Public Health Service, told the American Public Health Association in an address here today.

"Community health cannot be called 'purchasable,' he said. It must rest on co-operation and a broad municipal policy.

"A public health program for cities is in reality nothing more or less than a complete plan for continued existence," said Dr. Rucker.

"Unfortunately health has been considered in the past solely as a medical problem and the pendulum has been enthusiastically swung so far that health is almost regarded as an artificial state to be achieved and maintained solely through the interposition of medical safeguards.

"Expert knowledge of disease is absolutely necessary for the work of health departments but cannot be the foundation of a broad municipal policy of health. Public health is something more than a mere absence of disease. It is the physiological functioning of the community.

"The keyword in this public health policy is co-operation—co-operation having as its basis the full recognition of the fact that in its last analysis the health problem is an economic problem and as such cannot be solved without careful consideration of the economies of the community.

"There has been a great deal said about the purchasability of health. This pleasing catchword has generally been interpreted as meaning that if the general public would give sufficient funds to the health department it would receive health in exchange.

"Used in this way the phrase is incorrect because physical health can no more be purchased than spiritual health, and in both, co-operation is a pre-requisite to salvation.

"If we consider that health is purchasable by the full pay envelope whose contents are outlayed for proper food, clothing, housing, and all that goes with them, then indeed is public health purchasable, but this requires the co-operation of the city and its citizens, the aim of this co-operation being the prevention of the shrinkage in the purchasing power of the contents of the pay envelope."

Dr. Rucker spoke before the Public Health Administration Section of the convention. The sessions of the convention which began today will continue four days.

ARMY OFFICERS LEARNING HOW TO DEFENT UNITE DSTATES.

The best brains of the army are frequently engaged at the army war college in Washington in intricate maneuvers on an exact-scale map while imaginary battalions meet, or evade each other on the field of battle. Two men command each side, playing in turn, while a director measures the ground, estimates time required for movements, and referees the fight. A secretary records the various commands and scores the results. Those in the photograph are from left to right: Lieutenant Colonel J. A. Shipton, Major L. Wahl, Colonel George H. Cameron, Lieutenant Colonel B. D. Anderson and Lieutenant Colonel Henry J. Terry.

WILL NOT BE A CANDIDATE

Newburyport's Chief Executive Explodes a Political Bomb in Camp of His Followers.

Newburyport, Mass., Oct. 24.—Mayor Clarence J. Fogg this morning exploded a political bomb in the camp of his adherents when he announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election in December. Mr. Fogg has been in the chief executive's chair at city hall for the past two years and his re-election for a third term was conceded. Previous to obtaining the mayorship he had served in the state legislature for six terms.

He has recently become connected with a Boston brokerage house that is handling a Western oil proposition and his duties are such that he cannot dexterously cover both positions in his accustomed diligent manner and rather than attempt it, he has accepted his political commitments in order to give his full time to business connections.

OLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATION AT LOWELL

Captain and Mrs. George E. Worthen Observe Event With Military Honors.

Lowell, Oct. 24.—Captain and Mrs. George E. Worthen celebrated their olden wedding anniversary in the city here last night. The celebration took the form of a military reception and ball.

Several hundred guests were present, including the officers and men of the 1st Infantry, who have just returned from the Mexican border, Companies G, and K of the Sixth Regiment, N. G.; Posts 42, 85, and 120, U. S. A., and the women's auxiliaries to the various organizations. All of the officers and men were in military costume.

Plans for the celebration were made by the Spanish American war Veterans, assisted by the ladies of Women's Relief Corps 75. Captain Worthen is lieutenant of Post 42, G. A. R., of which Corps 75 is the auxiliary.

Captain Worthen was born in Lowell, May 26, 1843. He enlisted in Company E of the Twelfth New Hampshire Volunteers, August 14, 1862, and was promoted to the rank of corporal in 1863. He was mustered out with the rank of lieutenant June 21, 1865. In 1866 he was married to Lizzie W. Nuttall of Portsmouth, N. H. Captain Worthen attained his present rank during the Spanish-American war when he commanded a provisional company from this city.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE NOTES.

Preliminary to the celebration of the second "Federal Amendment Day" the National American Woman Suffrage Association issued a statement through its Congressional Committee showing that 370 congressional candidates this year favor the passage of the Federal Amendment to enfranchise the women of the United States.

Coupled with this is the fact that only 36 congressional candidates have expressed unfavorable opinions. The figures, however, do not tell the whole story, for, included in the replies of the candidates are many personal expressions of opinion that prove conclusively, according to Miss Ruth White, Secretary of the Congressional Committee, that more real interest in woman suffrage has been stirred up this year among the politicians than ever before in the history of the country.

In District No. 1, Mr. Sulloway, although not personally in favor of woman suffrage, has promised to vote for the Federal Amendment. Mr. Gordon Woodbury (Democrat) believes in suffrage but will not vote for the Federal Amendment.

In District No. 2, Congressman Wilson (Republican) and candidate Raymond B. Stevens (Democrat) are both in favor of the Federal Amendment.

ENLISTMENT PERIOD CHANGED IN THE ARMY

The U. S. army enlistment period is to be changed on November 1. One year of active service will be required after which those who enlist can go back to their regular duties subject to the call of the president and congress for the remaining six years. These who desire to, however, can serve three years of active service and then return home subject to the country's call for the remaining four years.

After one year's service, a young man who is in the army, if aged from 18 to 22, can take an examination for West Point as there are 45 places to be filled each year. After a year's service if under 29 years, a man may take an examination for second lieutenant. There are at present 900 vacancies to be filled in this position.

The army men, those in authority, claim the one-year service is far ahead of the Plattsbury scheme. They claim a month is too short for the men and that a year is a more reasonable time to serve. The expense for the year's service is paid by the government. They claim this changed period offers a great opportunity to the young men as they can try the army life and see how they like it for a year. If they desire they can then serve for a longer period.

came here yesterday following an autopsy on the body of Benjamin Franklin Dwinell, and reported that he died of natural causes. The body was found Sunday afternoon at the foot of Mount Kilburn in North Walpole, N. H.

Dwinell was born in Westminister 54 years ago. He leaves his mother, Mrs. Lucy Dwinell of Walpole, and three sons, Frank H., of New York city, Carlos of South Acworth, N. H., and Fred Dwinell of Rockingham, Vt.

BOSTON LETTER

Boston, Oct. 24.—Before the special commission on Social Insurance tomorrow, representatives of private employment agencies from all parts of the state will be present and voice their protests against a plan for placing all agencies in the commonwealth under state control. The commission is considering two bills, one of which provides for placing the supervision of the state free employment agencies under the State Board of Labor and Industries, and the other for state control of every employment agency in the state. The hearing will be in Room 415, State House, opening at 10.30 a. m. While the hearing is held especially at the request of members of the Massachusetts Employment Agencies Association in order to give them an opportunity to voice their opposition to the measure which the commission has under consideration, other phases of the employment question will be taken up and discussed. Reasonable restriction in the hours of employees in industries operating 24 hours a day will be considered at the afternoon session of the commission.

Rev. Herbert E. Whitlock, pastor of the Brighton Avenue Baptist church, in giving some "Do and Don't" rules for the home, said: "Every couple in starting out ought to take these two little bears into the home—bear and forebear. What we need in America today more than votes for women are more of the old-fashioned mothers. Some men give money to their wives as they pass a tip to a waiter or a taxi driver. Then they think they are great, generous-hearted fellows. In fact, they are so small you would need a microscope to see them. Too many folks mistake a house full of mahogany and birdseye maple for a home. Remember, young ladies, that any thing that is good enough to place before friends when they call, is not too good to place before hubby every day."

Thurs. Hanson, state commissioner of weights and measures, is preparing a budget in which he will ask the legislature for an appropriation to pay for four automobiles, especially constructed with "decoy" tanks, for the use of the inspectors of his department in detecting gasoline dealers who give short measure. These tanks will be connected with the filling pipe in the regular manner and concealed so that any gasoline dealer will think he is filling an ordinary car's tank. When the purchase has been made, a glance at the tank will tell the story and furnish the evidence, which cannot be disproved in court. These decoy tanks will be made of glass, graduated in quarts and gallons. Massachusetts will be the first state in the Union to develop this idea. It is the commissioner's opinion that short measures of gasoline are being sold. He has received many complaints from motorists in this effect. His department has inspected more than one thousand tanks, some of which were giving too much and some too little.

RYE NEWS

The summer boarder and the public will greatly miss the old Rye Beach postoffice building which has been moved away. It was an old landmark at this summer resort and was erected in 1861 by the late G. H. Jenness, who was the first postmaster, also a well known reporter for the press and noted writer who kept the postoffice and a variety store in the building. It was succeeded in office by Mr. C. W. Spurr, the present popular and efficient postmaster, where the postoffice has been kept during the beach season in the summer, in which a variety store has been kept in connection.

Gen. E. R. Champlin has had a crew of laborers from Portsmouth, who have constructed a fine, artistic pond on the east side and in front of his beautiful villa at Rye Beach. The work has been done under the careful supervision of Mr. John Thompson, the efficient foreman and caretaker of his place. Gen. Champlin and his family have returned to Boston for the winter.

There has been a boom in real estate at the beach and Mr. Russell Sawyer has made a big deal and disposed of a large tract of land to parties in Philadelphia this season.

The sad death of Mr. Erwin Moulton of North Hampton in the automobile accident at York Beach caused much sorrow among his friends. Mr. Moulton was well known here and was a young man of much business activity.

Several Democrats of this vicinity are planning to attend the smoke talk and meeting of the Democrats of

AUSTRIAN PREMIER'S ASSASSIN REFUSES TO GIVE A REASON

ADLER DECLARES HE SHOT PRIME MINISTER WITHOUT OUTSIDE ADVICE OR INSTIGATION.

Vienna, Oct. 23.—At his preliminary examination today, Frederick Adler, assassin of Count Sturgitz, the Austrian premier, refused to explain the motive for his act.

Adler said he killed the prime minister without outside advice or instigation. His father said he gave the impression of being weak mentally.

Vienna authorities took prompt action to prevent demonstrations following the assassination.

The usual Sunday meetings were prohibited. Crowds gathered in the streets, indignant over the shooting, but there were no disturbances. Adler, who displayed great coolness when first arrested, collapsed when he learned of the authorities' action. He told his father that he believed the Vienna crowds would be fired to great demonstrations by his act and expected other radical Socialists to head disturbances. Telephonic communication between Berlin and Vienna, interrupted shortly after the shooting, was restored a few hours later.

A post mortem examination confirmed reports that all three bullets found lodged in the prime minister's head. Vienna dispatches today said that Baron Beck, former premier, is the probable choice as successor to the slain prime minister. Prince Hohenlohe, minister of the interior and the oldest member of the cabinet, is temporarily filling the vacancy.

German Socialists declare that Adler was insane. They say he was considered "peculiar" when he was a student at Munich several years ago.

ABOUT TOWN

Now Hampshire As a Winter Resort

It was learned last evening that The New Hampshire Winter Resort Association will be formed in this city within a short time with the object of bringing to the attention of the country the possibilities and advantages of this section of the country as a year-round playground. In speaking of the movement one of the men actively interested in the organization of the association said last evening that New Hampshire lacked but two things to make it an important winter resort and those were first, comfortable large hotels and second, publicity. It is the intention of the association to supply these two things. He said, "New Hampshire is 3-4 the size of Switzerland and that country was making $25,000,000 a year from the winter resort business before the war. New Hampshire could make from 5 millions to 10 millions of dollars every year with the right kind of work and would be turning a liability, a dreary winter into a valuable asset."

May Return to Fishing Industry

Portsmouth may again be one of the important fishing centers of New England and the work being done in this direction by Henry Becker, Jr., of New Castle, and W. J. Hayward, at their new quarters on Broughton's Wharf is helping a lot. They are taking a success of the business and are taking care of all of the catches brought to them, distributing the fish throughout the state and that part not disposed of at once is being split and salted and stored for future use.

Portsmouth was at one time almost as important in this industry as Gloucester and it could be made so again. It seems that there are enough business men in Portsmouth who are willing to invest in the erection of a cold storage plant for the promotion of this industry. It would be a good investment, would pay big returns in a few years and would mean a great deal to the city.

A Real Band Stand

There is in Portsmouth the opportunity of a lifetime for some public spirited citizen to build a monument for himself in the erection of a permanent band stand in Market Square, now occupied by the iron fountain. The erection of the beautiful restum at Exeter might be equalled here. A beautiful granite and cement stand in the square for the use of the city on public occasions would add much to the appearance of the square in addition to filling a long-felt want in Portsmouth.

Better Apartments Needed

The need of better buildings to be used as apartments for living purposes is also great. The erection of the apartment house on Porter and Fleet streets, built by Mr. McIntosh, is one of the works which add much to the property value of the city. This building when completed will provide quarters for six families, comfortable homes with modern conveniences which are lacking in the larger number of the tenements now rented. The demand for more comfortable homes which may be rented at reasonable prices is very great or at least real estate men have been reporting for the past six months.

Better Business Blocks Also Needed

In addition to more comfortable residential property there is a need for the erection of better business property, especially along parts of Congress street where there is a number of firetrap wooden stores occupied by businesses which would be glad to go into new quarters, were they available. The owners of some of these properties could help make a bigger, better and busier Portsmouth by tearing down these buildings and replacing them with buildings which would pay greater returns and add to the beauty of their town.

Street Cleaning Problem

There is a serious problem which the city must solve soon and that is the finding of some adequate system of cleaning the streets, especially the asphalt. The present method of flooding the streets with water from sprinkling carts, allowing the dirt and refuse to be washed about the surface, is a menace to the lives of persons driving automobiles across our city. Other cities have evidently solved this problem and most of them by sweeping the streets thoroughly before drenching them with water. One visitor to Portsmouth said a few days ago that it was almost suicidal to attempt to drive through Portsmouth in a car and that if a serious accident occurred it would be on account of the criminal negligence of the city.

Making a Real Hit.

The Aeolian Quartette of this city appears to be making a decided hit with their work in the surrounding cities and towns and the four vocalists are fast making an enviable reputation. The quartette includes Messrs. Mitchell, Cook, Caswell, and Newick.

Another Public Building

It now seems, since the announcement of the sale of the National Block by the Granite State Fire Insurance Company, that Portsmouth may have another new public building. The Granite State Company is an establishment with sufficient enterprise to build a home worthy of its name in the business world. The site for its location can likely be found without great difficulty and it will match the many fine buildings, including the High School, the Y. M. C. A., the Hospital, and new Army and Navy Home, the new Chase Home for Children, and others, already a part of a better Portsmouth.

CONVERTED FIRST READER

When F. W. Beattie, an excellent type setter and a former Democrat, started to set the contents of the pamphlet entitled, "Hughes or Wilson?" issued by the Hughes National College League, 511 Fifth Avenue, New York City, he was strongly in favor of the re-election of President Wilson.

After setting the first page or two, according to his own statement, he was impressed by the fair way in which the facts were presented. When he had set another page, his belief in Wilson began to waver. Then he stopped setting and read the pamphlet through to the end. The final period of the pamphlet put a period to his belief in the President, and he announced that he would vote for Governor Hughes.

"I am not surprised," was the comment of George Brokaw Compton, National Campaign Manager of the League, when told of this incident. "The pamphlet is our answer to all those who have asked for the reasons why they should support Governor Hughes, and I believe that it is irrefutable."

NO HOUSE BIG ENOUGH FOR TWO FAMILIES.

Sioux City, Iowa, Oct. 23.—The following advice to newly married couples is given by Foster G. Higgins, Sioux City police court judge:

"There's no house big enough to shelter two families.

"Too much mother-in-law is not good for young couples.

"Too much father-in-law has the same effect.

"A wife should leave her husband to visit relatives at least two weeks every year. On her return she appreciates him better.

"A husband should leave his wife at least two weeks each year. He appreciates her more when he returns.

"A young couple place in by themselves. Their battles are their own.

"Welcome your relatives as company, but don't permit more than one to come at a time."

BANDITS ROUT CARRANZISTAS AT CHIHUAHUA

VILLISTAS GATHER AROUND WESTERN SIDE OF CITY FOR NEW ATTACK.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 23.—Villistas have surrounded the western side of Chihuahua City, after driving the Mexican de facto government troops into the outskirts, and another attack on the northern Mexican capital is believed imminent, says a dispatch reaching United States government departments here.

Verification of this is lacking and Carranza officials still insist that de facto troops are driving the bandits toward Santa Isabel.

Juarez, Mex., Oct. 23.—Reinforcements from the Carranza garrison here are being rushed to Chihuahua City today, following an appeal for aid from Gen. Trevino. Carranzista Commander at Chihuahua City. The appeal stated that Villista forces were near the city.

THREE NEW GENERALS

General Francis H. French.
General Charles G. Treat
General Eben Swift.

The American army, which has the best educated officers in the world (with the possible exception of the German army) now has three new generals. Colonel Francis H. French of the Twenty-first Infantry, has been promoted and will succeed General Granger Adams as chairman of the board to investigate rapid-fire guns, of which the United States will purchase $12,000,000 worth. Colonel Eben Swift, stationed at the army service school at Fort Leavenworth, will succeed General John J. Pershing, who becomes major general in succession to the late Major General Albert F. Mills. Colonel Charles G. Treat, of the field artillery, will become a brigadier to succeed General P. W. Shirley, retired. He is now of the general staff and vice president of the war college.

MAIDS DETERIORATING HOUSE-WIVES COMPLAIN.

New York, Oct. 23.—At the annual meeting of the German Housewives' society here, prizes were awarded to forty-two veteran maids, the star being Mrs. Rosa Hahn, with a record of twenty years in one place. Two maids immediately turned in the rings offered them to help war stricken Germany. The old reliable German maid is getting rarer and rarer, the housewives agree. Mr. Francis A. Gaudling, Manager of the society said: "The old-fashioned, systematic housemaid is a thing of the past. The modern home is not a smooth running, well regulated thing. Everything is erratic. The maid may be called upon at any hour to perform some petty duty."

by Major Killbuck. The inspection was concluded shortly before noon and
Gen. Wood left for Boston by auto-

That he hurried back from the next station and picked up the animal.

That a number of Ward Three

COLONIAL THEATRE.
This week should establish a record for attendance at motion picture houses at the Colonial if the worth of the attractions has any bearing on such records.

In addition to the big picture
programs offered for the week, Manager
Badger has engaged a superb concert orchestra as an added feature for the week and the music lover will get his fill of the best music as well as the picture fun of top quality films.

The program of selections which the leader of the orchestra has arranged for the week is one sure to please the greatest number of patrons, and is drawn from the best music of recent years. Today "Dorlan's Divorce" is one of the big pictures in the long list of features and with Lionel Barrymore and a great cast of stars in his support, this five-part drama approaches perfection. The story is absorbing, interest compelling, and relieved by bits of the most delicious humor. There are other notable features on this bill.

Tomorrow and Thursday one of the most powerful dramas ever filmed, taken from one of the most successful stage plays ever presented the public will be a feature. This is "Madame X." In six parts, every foot of film in every one of the half dozen reels cramped with tense dramatic feeling, this picture is one which haunts you for weeks after seeing it. The climax, which comes in the court room scene, is a famous piece of acting. In many ways, owing to the larger scope of the motion picture art, the picture version transcends the stage play. There are numerous other films for this two days show, including a Mutual masterpiece in five parts, comedy and news subjects.

The last two days of the week will see a wonderful Bushman-Bayne drama "Pennington's Choice" in five parts.

FOUR NURSES GRADUATE AT
THE HOSPITAL

Exercises Held Today for the First Time in History of the Institution.

For the first time in the history of the Portsmouth hospital, appropriate exercises were held in connection with the graduation of four of the nursing corps, Miss Eugenia Jewett, Miss Violet Pruett, Miss Myrtle Seavey and Miss Harriet Sullivan.

The diplomas were presented by John S. Rand, president of the Board of Trustees, and the class pins were awarded by Mrs. Louise Hovey, the president of the Board of Directors.
The address was delivered by Rev.
Nelson Kellogg, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church.

Following their degree the graduates will take up their profession as follows: Miss Jewett and Miss Seavey will remain at the hospital, the former as night supervisor and the latter will have charge of the operating room. Miss Pruett will enter Colum-

HOME NURSING
Mrs. Dr. Boger Gives Interesting Talk to Girls' Club.

Dr. Boger gave her second talk in the series which she plans to give before the Girls' club on Monday evening. It pertained to home nursing and she explained to the girls the myriads of ways in which they might be of service in times of illness. The manner of changing the sheets on a bed in which a patient lay and the manner of bathing a patient were demonstrated by Miss Petrie, the district nurse.

The Girls' club is very fortunate in having this opportunity to learn those parts of nursing which every woman needs to know.

Dr. Boger instructed the girls in the easy, quiet ways of waiting on the sick in the sick room. A large number was in attendance.

Miss Cate of the domestic science department of the High school is going to teach domestic science and will begin her first course on Thursday evening.
